

ABSTRACT

The invention relates to a pump, for example, a vane-cell pump or a roll-cell pump, especially a gear pump, comprising a two-stroke pump contour which comprises at least one mounting area, at least one large circular area, at least one declining area and at least one small circular area. The pump comprises a rotor with radially displaceable vanes or rolls arranged in radial slits inside the pump contour.